The man would not sell it  of course. He was so rich  he was the richest in the village  that he did not want to use it for himself  but every Christmas he donated food  and clothes and coal for the poor  and nice presents for the little children.

So he rejected all the offers of a strange  looking  rich merchant  A merchant  however  determined to have it  bribed one of the man  s servants to let him go into the castle at night  and he stole the mill and sailed away with it in triumph
