

The Night Has a Thousand Eyes- Answers

1. (in the order) Answers: lights, night, light, daylight, fades
2. The theme of the poem is about the transience, the power of perception, and the profound impact of love on an individual's existence.
3. The purpose of the poem is to explore the mysterious and enigmatic nature of night and day.
4. The tone of this poem is contemplative and introspective.
5. Night and day; mind and heart
6. A. The Mind is compared to the night. The mind can perceive and comprehend various aspects of existence, thus have a thousand eyes.
B. The Heart is compared to the day. The heart is linked to the have one eye, thus emphasizing the intensity and singularity of love.
7. Stanza two emphasize that the light of an entire existence extinguishes when love comes to an end, thus showing the profound impact that love's absence can have on an individual's sense of purpose and fulfillment.