

Trees - Answers

1. Loveliness, complexity, wonder, roots, branches, stretch, raised
2. The overarching theme of the poem centres on the significance and awe-inspiring nature of trees.
3. The purpose of the poem is to evoke a sense of wonder and admiration for the natural world, reminding readers of the intrinsic value and importance of trees.
4. Kilmer's tone throughout the poem is reverent and appreciative, as he marvels at the intricate design and majestic presence of these natural wonders.
5. Birds inhabit the trees.
6. The poet shows trees are strong by enduring the harshness of winter and rain.
7. He wants to acknowledge that while poems may be crafted by mere mortals like himself, the act of creating a tree is a divine power reserved solely for God.
8. personification