

Introduction to the Caribbean people.

The people of the Caribbean are known for their vibrant culture, delicious food, and warm hospitality. They come from many different backgrounds, including African, European, and Indigenous heritage, which makes the Caribbean a melting pot of diversity.

Caribbean people love to dance and listen to music like reggae, calypso, and salsa. They also enjoy playing sports like cricket and soccer. In the Caribbean, family is very important, and it is common for multiple generations to live together and support each other.

One of the most famous things about the Caribbean is the beautiful beaches and crystal-clear waters. Many Caribbean people make a living from fishing, farming, and tourism. They take great pride in their local cuisine, which features dishes like jerk chicken, rice and peas, and plantains.

Overall, the people of the Caribbean are known for their strong sense of community, resilience in the face of challenges, and their love for life. So next time you meet someone from the Caribbean, remember that they come from a rich and diverse culture with a lot to offer the world.

Homework: Research and present to class.

- 1) Name three Caribbean countries.
- 2) Name four popular hotels in the Caribbean.
- 3) Name two popular reggae singers, calypso singers, and salsa singers.
- 4) Name five popular Caribbean beaches.
- 5) Name five popular Caribbean cuisines.
- 6) The people of the Caribbean speak different languages. Write two countries where the people speak the following languages.
  - a) English-
  - b) Spanish –
  - c) French –
  - d) Patois/Creole-
  - e) Dutch-