

Conjunction Notes and Worksheet

A conjunction is a word used to connect or join words, phrases or clauses.

Example:

Dave went to the cinema. Cal went to the cinema.

Dave and Cal went to the cinema.

Sue walked down the street. She walked up the path to the store.

Sue walked down the street and up the path to the store.

The children went to beach. The children met some sailors.

The children went to the beach, and met some sailors.

Main coordinating conjunctions are: and, nor, or, but, neither, either.

Exercise

1. I like playing cricket. I don't like playing football.
2. Jillian wanted to fry an egg. Jillian found that there was no oil.
3. I don't like this game. I'm sure you will like this game.
4. You can go to the store. I can go to the store instead.
5. I called three times. I never spoke with him.
6. I like cricket and badminton. I prefer soccer.
7. The principal was absent from school. He was out of the country.
8. Mom is going to the market. She is going to buying some fresh corn.
9. Donna had lunch in the restaurant. She left after the meal.
10. The guests arrived. I was still dressing.
11. We left the auditorium. He was still playing.
12. It was cold. We still went outside.

